Question
Answer

Row 1: A red car with the number 1 and a lightning bolt helmet. The word "wind" is written in a cursive font with numbered arrows indicating stroke order. The tracing path is a dashed zigzag line.

Row 2: A yellow car with the number 2 and a blue lightning bolt helmet. The word "does" is written in a cursive font with numbered arrows indicating stroke order. The tracing path is a dashed zigzag line.

Row 3: A green car with the number 3 and a yellow lightning bolt helmet. The word "fries" is written in a cursive font with numbered arrows indicating stroke order. The tracing path is a dashed horizontal line.

The entire section is framed by a decorative border of small, stylized trees and a circular logo in the bottom right corner that reads "LEARNING TO TEACH".
